"LAWYERS ACT" FIRST FOR ACTION

Shyster's Elimination
Sought in Measure
Given Approval

(Associated Press.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 22.—An effort to reduce the salaries of state employees to the pre-war level of 1915 is expected to be introduced in a bill to be introduced in the senate probably tomorrow.

Despite the fact that the bill is said to be in line with the administration's program of economy, it is believed that it will meet with instant disapproval of many members of the legislature.

The lawyer's bill, governing admissions to the bar and seeking to eliminate the so-called "ambulance chasing ambulance lawyers" and the "shysters" will be the first bill placed for adoption by the senate when it reconvenes tomorrow.

The bill was given a favorable report by the judiciary committee. The measure was amended to admit University of Alabama law graduates to the bar without examinations.

The fight to abolish the state law enforcement department is expected to be the leading issue on the senate floor before the week is over, with Senator A. A. Griffith, of Cullman, who introduced the bill, at the head of the battle.

Despite the fact that the bill was given an adverse report by the judiciary committee, Senator Griffith declared he would attempt to have it taken off the adverse calendar.

Repeal of the waterpower tax exemption clause in the bill introduced by Senator Walter Brower, of Jefferson, is scheduled by the finance and taxation committee to be taken up tomorrow with a vigorous fight anticipated in the committee, while another bill, which provides the public service commission the right to revalue property, introduced by Senator Brower, also is expected to come up before the legislative week is closed.

Imposition of a severance tax on all raw materials removed from the mines, forests and water of Alabama will be proposed in a bill to be introduced by Senator George W. Duncan, of the first district, at the session tomorrow.

Abolition of the office of tax administrator.

Morgan County Hopes

FARM INTERESTS ARE TO THE FORE

May Get Opportunity To Store Products In State Warehouses

Morgan County's representatives to the general assembly at Montgomery having spent the week end at home are preparing to resume their legislative duties.

Representative John Patterson, is still here but plans to leave either tonight or early tomorrow for the capital. Mr. Patterson, when seen this morning, was hopeful and even optimistic. He expects a good session of the legislature and the accomplishment of valuable legislation. Mr. Patterson is especially pleased, he stated, to report that a measure he advocated on the stump during the campaign—namely the one providing selling and marketing facilities for the farmers, is now receiving prompt attention.

"In my campaign over the county," stated Mr. Patterson, "I advocated the appointment of a committee at the opening of the legislature to look into the advisability of the state agricultural department doing something more definite for the cooperative selling of the products of the farm."

Mr. Patterson pointed out that the diversification of crops was dependent upon proper marketing conditions, and stated that he considered it within the pale of possibility for the state agricultural department to provide suitable warehouses for storing farm products and also a financial system so that farmers could deposit their products of their fields, and secure enough ready money on such deposits to enable them to hold their crops until they could secure suitable prices for them. He also stated that he saw no reason why, if cotton warehouses could be provided by the agricultural department, why it was not within the bounds of possibility for similar provision to be made for the meat products of the farmers; so they could put their meats into cold storage, on the same conditions as the other products of the farm."

"I am very glad to notice," said Mr. Patterson, "that a joint resolution will doubtless pass soon authorizing the appointment of a committee—two members from the Senate and three members from the House—whose duty it will be to investigate into the workings of the department of agriculture."

Interesting Specimen of Journalism Is Newspaper Published Here in 1899

An interesting specimen of the journalism in vogue here in 1899—one in which many local advertisements appear has been brought The Daily for inspection by Miss Leonie Rothfuss, to whom the tiny "sheet" belongs.

The paper was published on a single sheet, 11 x 15 inches, and the reading matter which is on both sides covers a space 9 x 13 inches.

One of the most frequent names seen in the "advertising columns" is that of former Mayor E. C. Payne, who tells the people four different times that he has lumber to sell.

A large space is taken announcing gloves for sale by Robinson and Nichols of West Vine Street. The first member of that firm, L. S. Robinson, is now dead. A familiar appearing "ad" is that for coal and grain, but it is signed by B. W. Malone, who has passed away. The largest ad in the newspaper which called itself the "DECATUR VITASCOPE" was by a merchant named C. H. Patton who had oysters to sell, at the "Economy Lunch Counter," on Bank Street. Under "Church Notices," the Central Baptist and the Westminster have announcements.

Rev. W. Y. Quisenberry, was pastor of the Central Baptist and J. A. Thomson, was the Superintendent of the Sunday School.

The name of D. B. Morrow, who died some years ago, is signed to a legal document as "Commissioner."

One of the best pieces of writing in the "Vitascope," is a description of the marriage journey of our present townsman Charles M. Livingston, who according to the narrative was married to Miss Mollie Hunter near Christmas time 1899. The writer makes a pleasant reference to the contracting parties and finishes by saying: "The Vitascope wishes them bon voyage over the matrimonial seas." Miss Rothfuss says she is not sure who the editor of the Vitascope was—his name does not appear at the mast-head—but that a receipt from the paper is signed "Morrow Drake," and Marvin West, Registrar.

Peru President Banishes Wealthy Rival

Isaisas de Pierola

Isaisas de Pierola, one of the wealthiest and most influential residents of Peru, has been summarily banished, he asserts, on one day's notice, by President August Leguia because newspapermen had hinted he would be a Democratic candidate for the Presidency of Peru two years hence. He declares that within two months 300 members of his party have been exiled and that many have mysteriously disappeared. Mr. de Pierola was accompanied by his wife, who was formerly Miss Fay Victoria Hancock of New York.

SITUATION IN RUHR CAUSE OF WORRY

(Associated Press.)
Strikes of miners in the Ruhr valley, called yesterday by the labor conference at Essen, were in progress at various pits throughout the valley today.

The strikes complete or partial were in the privately controlled workings, whose directors were arrested by the French last week.

Withdrawal of the occupying troops from the state owned mine properties that had been seized was followed by resumption of mining in these workings, although on a scale reported somewhat reduced.

While no news of a general railroad strike order has appeared, Dusseldorf advises report only about ten per cent of the trains running, these manned by French crews.

The banking situation seems to have been eased somewhat by the reopening of the Dusseldorf branch of the Reich's bank. The Essen bank and the private banks of that city remained closed.

It was announced from Mayence that the court martial trial of Fritz Thyssen and the other industrial magnates arrested would be held Wednesday with the proceedings completed in one day.

Revival of the talk of proclaiming a Rhineland republic, which would form a buffer state between France and Germany met with editorial comment from Rome that such a move would not be tolerated by Germany's creditor nations.

Germany took a further step in obtaining from the Versailles treaty co-operation with France by withdrawing her member from the mixes Franco-German arbitration tribunal in Paris. France again delayed presentation of the new reparations settlement plan.

(Associated Press.)
LONDON, Jan. 22.—The critical situation in the Ruhr is a subject of much anxious comment by the morning newspapers, which regard the outlook as so dangerous that it is imperative that some way of relieving the deadlock be found.

Fear is expressed in some quarters lest Great Britain may be forced into some form of active intervention against her will.

Some circles are also fearful that if France pursues the present line of her policy, she will be obliged to increase her forces greatly in the occupied districts.

POSSE FIRES AT FLEEING BLACK

Frank Sykes Appears
To Have Made Good
Dash to Liberty

NEGRO CROSSES LINE OF COUNTY

Alleged Slayer Flees
From Morgan Into
Lawrence County

Frank Sykes, negro, charged with the murder of his wife and daughter, is still at large, and when last seen was nearing the Lawrence County line. The search is to continue, although the original posse has returned to the county courthouse.

Late Saturday the Morgan County posse, sent out by Sheriff C. E. Poole to take Sykes, who Saturday morning shot and killed his wife and step-daughter on a farm just west of here, had returned, after driving the fugitive beyond the Morgan County lines into Lawrence County.

According to Ed R. Adcock, of the Albany police force, who was in the posse sent out by Sheriff Poole, Frank Sykes was seen by members of the posse late Saturday, sitting on the porch of a family down the river, beyond Finlay's landing. The posse was close to two hundred yards distant and could have opened fire on Sykes at once, but as he was surrounded by so many other people they dared not shoot, lest they kill innocent parties.

Sykes saw the officers about the same time they saw him, and fled in great haste. As the negro ran the officers fired 10 times at him from Winchester rifles, but so far as known without effect. As the distance between the fugitive and the posse was so great the shot guns carried were useless.

The officers were on foot during the last hours of the pursuit, and they followed the trail until the negro was well into Lawrence County. Sheriff Poole secured farm wagons, and brought the posse back to their cars near Finlay's landing on the Tennessee river, and they returned to the court house. The search for Sykes will continue, it was stated by the authorities.

No Further Action In Gruesome Find

The announcement made by Coroner F. M. Hamilton, that he has no intention of summoning a regular jury to hold an inquest over the skeleton found south of Hartselle Friday, on the Bee Line Highway, is taken to mean that the "incident is closed" at least until there are other developments.

He entered upon his books "partly unknown and cause of death unknown." As some of the flesh of the dead person was found about the ships, the belief prevails that death came to the individual not so many months ago. The black neck-tie worn evidently by the dead man in life was the best preserved piece of raiment found, although what appeared to be a silk shirt was plainly visible, as was a union suit of underwear. A gold crowned "eye" tooth was found close beside the skeleton. The body, it is expected, will be buried at the expense of Morgan county.

Invitation Out To C. of C. Meeting

The following card of President Clifton of the Albany-Decatur Chamber of Commerce is self explanatory:

The monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held in our rooms on Second Avenue on Tuesday January 23 at 7:00 p. m. This meeting will be in the nature of a Smoker and we want every member to come and to suggest some way that we can better the interest of this community. Remember you are a part of this organization and we expect you to be active.

Very truly yours,
Albany-Decatur Chamber of Commerce, J. W. Clifton, President.

Pastor Who Baptized Dog Holds Church

Rev. Edwin Curtis and wife.

Three years ago Rev. Edward Curtis, a quiet-spoken, cultured minister, went to Brookline, Massachusetts, from England and was given the pastorate of a Brookline church. Then he defied what he termed an "insignificant minority" of his church, and for three years there has been a battle on in the congregation, during which ecclesiastical and court efforts have been made to oust him. He was brought up on charges that he baptized a dog and asked a blessing on French fried potatoes. The Court, however, has upheld him, and he retains his pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church in Brookline.

SPECIAL SERIES OF SERMONS IS BEGUN

The purpose and business of the church, was the theme of the Sunday morning sermon by Dr. James A. Duncan, when he preached from his pulpit at the First Methodist church. Besides his own people quite a number were present from different sections of the cities.

Last night Dr. Duncan began a series of sermons. He will preach each Sunday night for some time on "The Woman Who Saved a Nation."

Queen Esther, who at the behest of her uncle Mordacai, interceded for Israel before King Ahasuerus is the ancient Bible character of whom Dr. Duncan will preach from week to week.

The text used Sunday morning was: "And if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." The speaker said that the business of the church was to reveal Christ to the world. In the first place the need of Christ's spirit was shown by a reference to what have the opposite spirit to that of Christ was making in the world. He said jealousy, hate, intolerance and selfishness were ample proof of the evil spirit. But the speaker quickly added that it was needless to discuss any thing about evil, except how to cure and prevent it. "If I break my arm, what I want is to get it set. Whether I fell by slipping on a banana skin, fell down stairs, or the horse threw me or the mule kicked me are matters of no consequence, compared to getting my arm well."

The speaker then showed that if a bank did not cash checks, and other businesses did not do their pledged duties but just "hoped" they would later on, they would not be excused. And by the same token, according to the speaker churches that just "hoped" for the best, but failed to reveal Christ, had no excuse for existence.

False Conceptions by Church People.

"I have been coming to this church for months, and nobody has paid any attention to me," quoted the preacher from an imaginary person. And then he told the people how wrong and foolish it was for Christians to expect things done for them by church. "The church's purpose is not to do things to people; it is a company pledged to reveal Christ to others, and to serve others' needs."

In speaking of the need of faith between people the speaker referred to what great faith Christ had in such ordinary people as were His disciples; and declared that human nature was really admirable. It was declared that every one was potentially "good."

WITNESS TELLS OF POKER GAME

Wagsdale Declares He

BUNCH OF KEYS SHOWN WITNESS

Bennett Testifies Key
Was Master And It
Opened Meter Box

(Associated Press.)

BASTROP, La., Jan. 22.—The alleged attempt to assassinate Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, which is believed to have prompted the kidnapping and killing of Watt Daniels and Thomas F. Richard, was brought up at the outset at today's session of the open hearing being conducted by the state into the activities of masked men in Morehouse parish, particularly into the murder of Daniel and Richard.

C. Wagsdale, of Wagster, the first witness, testified he was in a poker game at the home of J. L. Daniel at Mer Rouge the night Dr. McKoin was said to have been fired upon from ambush. Watt Daniel, J. L. Daniel, T. F. Richard, W. C. Andrews, Tom Bell and a man by the name of Hicks were the other players.

"After I left the game I went to a restaurant," said Wagsdale, "after which I went to my home. On my way I heard two shots. I did not pay any attention to it. I was going away that night so I left home and walked down to the restaurant again to wait for the train. I joined Watt Daniel, Richard, W. C. Andrews and others in the restaurant. I did not hear of any attempt to kill Dr. McKoin until I reached Bonita the next day."

It has been testified that when Watt Daniel, his father, Tot Davenport, Richard and Andrews were kidnapped by masked men the evening of August 24, near Bastrop, their captors questioned them. Davenport about the attempt to assassinate Dr. McKoin. J. L. Daniel and Andrews were flogged and with Davenport were released. Watt Daniel and Richard never were seen again until their mutilated bodies were discovered in Lake Lafourche 25 miles from here on December 22.

S. I. Bennett, 40, general manager of the Southern Carbon company's plant at Spyker, was the next witness.

A bunch of keys was handed the witness and he was asked whether a certain one opened the meter house. Mr. Bennett replied it was a master key and it would open all the meter boxes.

The key exhibited to Mr. Bennett and a hack saw were found on the banks of Lake Lafourche by J. C. Nettles, a fisherman, the morning after the explosion of a charge of dynamite which brought the bodies of Daniel and Richard to the surface. It had been testified previously that the keys were similar to those used by the carbon company to unlock and adjust the concern's natural gas meters.

Prodigal Son Subject of Lesson In Many Twin City Schools On Sunday

In all the adult classes of the Twin City Sunday Schools yesterday, the International Sunday School lesson on the "Prodigal Son" was the subject of the lesson. Prof. W. W. Benson, teaching the Lend-a-Hand Bible Class, said that the parable of the prodigal son was the brightest gem in all the scriptures. He said that as the scene of Portia, pleading for justice in Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice was evoking and as Ivanhoe in the lists, in Scott's book of that name was inspiring, as Val Jean's confession in Les Miserables, was the peak of Hugo's masterpiece, so the Savior's parable of the prodigal son, was the highest mountain peak of the Holy Scriptures.

An especially interesting feature of Prof. Benson's portrayal of the lesson yesterday was his recital of the efforts of fathers whom he knew personally, to save their sons, from just what nearly lost the prodigal son.

The speaker said the down fall of the Prodigal was gradual, then rapid, and declared that in his judgment, Satan worked the same way today, fooling people into mild sins and then when hope was gone plunging them down into despair.

The shame which a member of the Jewish nobility must have felt at having to tend hogs and later to eat with them was vividly pictured by the speaker, who reminded his hearers that sin brought just as great disgrace upon one as upon another.

According to Prof. Benson, when the prodigal said: "I will arise and go to my father," that he was then at the place of repentance, a necessary condition to every changed life. He said that when the Prodigal said he was no more worthy to be called a son, he was then at the place of humility, another necessary station on the road to successful religious life.

The home coming scene when the father ordered the best for his returning son, was told with powerful effect, and the speaker said that the fathers were always ready to stand by their sons.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

KEEP AN OPEN EYE FOR OPPORTUNITY
BUT DO NOT LOOK FOR BOUNDARY LINES.

"John Brown traded with the Indians and bought the whole island of Manhattan for twenty-four dollars," says a historical quotation. Mr. Brown had just 24 dollars worth of vision where the Indians had no vision, except for game, fish, and wild animals. Today, the island of Manhattan on which is located New York city is the most valuable piece of real estate in the world. The human mind cannot begin to grasp the fabulous sum it would take to buy Manhattan island and all the buildings located thereon. It was not because the island was rich in soil or mineral wealth, or for any other similar reason that made it valuable. It lay in the path way of the world, that is why the New York island became so valuable. As the people went in and out from the old world to the new, and from the new back again to the old world, they passed Manhattan island. They made it a storage place. They opened the New York harbor and made the island a world shipping point—and the pages of history for the last hundred years tell the rest. The thing for people of this community to get fixed in their mind, is that it was the LOCATION of Manhattan and New York city that has made them great. And also that it is the LOCATION of the Twin Cities that make them POTENTIALLY great.

The latest appropriation at Washington, makes the opening of the Tennessee river to full navigation "dead moral certainty".

For argument's sake suppose, nothing else is done except open Muscle Shoals to where ocean going ships can pass safely, what more do such favored sections as this, want to assure the future? Just as New York was in the path way of civilization, so shall Albany and Decatur be on the open road to the world ports when the Tennessee comes into her own as a navigable river.

And already, we are at the cross roads of the world, so to speak. All who wish to do business in this Tennessee Valley have to pass in and out of the Twin Cities. We should keep up the good work of making this a distributing center—a place for great store houses and warehouses. And we should keep up the good work of attracting industries here—and a thousand shames on any who would worry over WHERE incoming industries are located just so they are located in this neighborhood. The eye of opportunity, never sees boundary lines. And the forward looking men and women of these cities, are not looking for boundary lines, they are looking for opportunities.

Our motto, "We Build," clearly indicates the fundamental purpose of this club. If one were asked to further define the purpose and spirit of KIWANIS, he might answer:

"It is not a religious organization, but it believes in God.

"It is not sectarian, but it believes in the church.

"It is not educational, but it believes in the school.

"It is not benevolent, but it believes in charity.

"It is not fraternal, but it believes in brotherhood.

"It is not political, but it believes in government.—Kiwani Magazine.

with a view of making plans for the storing and marketing of the products of the farm. My idea is, to have this committee appointed at once, so it can do its work during the recess between the present session of the legislature and the one we expect to have this summer."

Opposed Anti-Lobby Bill.

Mr. Patterson said he opposed the J. Lee Long anti-lobby measure, which if it had not been beaten as was the case, would have made it a prison offense for any employee of the state, who was making as much or more than $600 to have anything to do with information regarding legislation. He said the many employees of the state had valuable information which should be available to all.

"I looked at it this way, also," said Mr. Patterson, "that if the Governor himself, according to the way the bill read, should give information to the law makers he would be liable for punishment, and, besides, I consider that it is beneath the dignity of legislators to be so compassed about so much. And there was too much opportunity, in the bill, as I saw it, for higher officials of the state government to get the lesser employees implicated in blame and guilt of some kind in connection with giving information."

Convict Lease Bill Only One Passed.

"The so-called convict lease bill is the only one passed so far," said Mr. Patterson, and it was passed after being so amended as to give the Governor authority to terminate the lease system before January 1, 1927, if way opened to do so." Mr. Patterson is chairman of the Public Printing Committee and is a member of six committees all told. The other committees he is on, exclusive of the printing committee are: Ways and Municipal Organizations; Public Roads and Highways, Public Health, and Banking and Insurance. Mr. Patterson said that while he was not on the education committee he expected to do all he could for the progress of the cause of education. According to Mr. Patterson nine bills were introduced Friday 19, but only the bill providing for doing away with the convict lease system passed the required number of readings.

then men can forgive, at least in part". It was taught that in proportion as we had Christ's spirit we would be generous and forgiving. The speaker said that humanity was a case of "black or white rather than a case of white on black" and encouraged his hearers to believe that Christ, if properly revealed, would remove the black off of humanity and leave it white as snow. In closing Dr. Duncan brought out many thoughts tending to get his hearers to believe that "all things work together for good to them who love God."

Seventeen cases were set before Mayor Britain in Albany police court this morning. Ten of the defendants were charged with failing to connect their property with sanitary sewers. They were given ten days to make the connections.

Other defendants were held on charges as follows: 2 for disorderly conduct, one for carrying concealed weapon, one for drunkenness, one for driving a car over a fire hose. Fines totalling $103 were assessed.

Everything Points to the Greatest Spring Demand for Ford Products in Company's History

1,202,517 Ford Cars and Trucks were delivered to retail purchasers in the United States alone during 1922—

Actual deliveries for last month greatly exceeded any previous December in the history of the Ford Motor Company—

It was the ninth consecutive month in which more than 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks were retailed—keeping the Ford Plants working at capacity to meet dealers' requirements—

In many parts of the country dealers are already finding it necessary to specify later delivery dates on certain types because there are no reserve stocks to draw from—

Commercial users, business houses and farmers, anticipating their future requirements, are placing orders and taking delivery of Ford Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors to insure against delay—

Everything points to the biggest shortage of Ford Products this Spring that has ever existed—

The only way you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car, Truck or Fordson Tractor is to list your order immediately—

We have given you these facts as they actually exist so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or tractor for use this Spring or Summer, you can list your order now and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery.

At the meeting of the Saturday Club on Saturday afternoon with Mrs. L. P. Troup as hostess, Mrs. E. F. Baird had charge of the Alabama Day program. The roll call was answered with items of interest about the noted Alabamians.

Hon. S. A. TO PASS ENABLING ACT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 22.—(Special)—Gossip questioning the right of the state to issue bonds for the improvement of the state's seaport at Mobile under the constitutional amendment adopted at the November election will not prevent the Legislature from enacting laws, which will provide for the issuance of bonds. Members of the Legislature tonight expressed the opinion that the laws should be enacted in order that there may be no delay when the amendment has met the approval of the supreme court.

FIRST BILL ADVERSED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 22.—(Special)—The first bill introduced in the House this year hit the rocks on the second day of its legislative career. It was introduced by Representative Stewart of Bibb Tuesday and proposed the reduction of the salary of the governor of Alabama from $7,500 to $6,000 a year. The ways, means and appropriations committee returned it to the house with an adverse report, which makes it a dead letter unless it is placed on the regular calendar by a majority of the House.

OBITUARY.

"Budded on Earth to Bloom in Heaven".

On January 14, 1923, the angel of death came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Russell, and took from them their little son, Paul, age 4 years and 1 month.

He loaned him to us for awhile and then he came our way and laid his hands on little Paul and carried him home to stay.

The saddest time of all my life was when the summons came to take our precious darling to his Eternal Home.

He did not take little Paul away to make us sad and lone.

He carried him to the skies above, To shine around the Throne.

But some sweet day we'll meet him And live with him above.

Where there can come no sorrow, But joy and peace and love.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Another Year's Eve. It was one of the smart triumph! This time it's little white woolly dogs that have carried our banner aloft all over the world. For the first time, American-bred Pekinese have established superiority over the best of imported dogs. There were 109 entries at the seventeenth annual Pekinese Club show here, and Mrs. F. C. McAllister took the blue ribbon in all events for her 100 per cent American pet.

Our Metropolitan Museum has had another honor paid it in the appeal received from Lord Carnarvon's expedition in Egypt for assistance in the excavations among the buried treasures of the Pharaohs. The museum has answered by placing as many members of its expedition staff at the disposal of Lord Carnarvon as may be required for the work. The authorities of the Metropolitan regard it as a gratifying compliment to be given a part in this greatest discovery in the history of Egyptology in the uncovering of the tomb of Tutankhamen.

The Turkish Government has extended, through His Excellency General Ismet Pasha, minister of foreign affairs, a cordial invitation to visit Constantinople to American tourists who will shortly sail on the Mediterranean cruises of the American Express Company on the S. S. Mauretania and S. S. Lausanne, Switzerland. His Excellency added that the tourists would receive a warm welcome and expressed the hope that the visit will contribute to a better comprehension of the Turkish people and amicable relations between the two countries. The first of these cruises will sail February, 5th on the S. S. Mauretania and many people prominent in the social and business work are among the names on her passenger list. The second the S. S. Caronia sails February 10th with members of the International Chamber of Commerce to attend the second general meeting in Rome, March 19 to 26th and cruise the Mediterranean.

From chambermaid to prima donna is the way the story books would have it run. But sometimes things go quite contrary to the best-laid story book tales, and the instance of Miss Asta Mober is one such occasion. Miss Mober is a Swedish prima donna with a career in the Royal Opera House at Stockholm. Two months ago she was "broke" in New York and took a place as chambermaid in one of our big hotels. Because of "her pleasant voice," she has been promoted to the information desk at the telephone switch board. "I love it," she declared. "I was tired and my nerves were frayed. Now I am well and happy, thanks to my old work as chambermaid. Sing any more? Certainly. The housekeeper heard me humming and said she liked my voice, so I sang to the employees on Christmas day and had a grand time."

I have seen with mine own eyes the length to which our Constitution is being upheld. I visited my first cabaret the other night since the drouth which set in here on New

Knoxville Pastor
Gets Call Here

By unanimous vote Sunday morning the congregation of the Central Baptist church here called Dr. James Allen Smith, pastor of the Belle Avenue Baptist church, of Knoxville, to succeed Dr. W. P. Wilks, resigned. Dr. Smith is a native Alabamian, and is known intimately by some members of the Central Baptist church. It is said that Dr. Smith's church at Knoxville is a large active one; and that the Sunday School membership runs far into the hundreds. The resignation of Dr. W. P. Wilks, who has been pastor of the local church for nearly six years will be effective February 1, when he goes to Brownwood, Texas, to become pastor of the First Baptist church there.

Lowe Presented
Umbrella By Class

At a well attended business meeting of the Lend-a-hand Bible class of the First Methodist church, held yesterday, Judge W. T. Lowe, who for a year has served as president of the class, was presented with a handsome umbrella, as a token of the regard the class had for its past president and his faithful services as presiding officer. Judge Lowe has been succeeded by Roger Gardner as President. A few additions were made to committees, and plans projected for a male quartette.
